WOODS CHARITABLE FUND AWARDS GRANTS

Woods Charitable Fund’s Board of Directors approved grants totaling $286,364 to 13 tax-exempt organizations during its second grant cycle of 2012.

Of the $286,364 in awards given this grant cycle, 35 percent will go toward Human Services organizations, 43 percent toward Civic & Community, 11 percent toward Education and 11 percent toward Arts & Culture.

Among the award recipients is Flatwater Shakespeare Company, which will receive a two-year grant of $30,000 toward its second and third years offering Shakespeare productions in Lincoln public parks. Last year, more than 2,000 people attended its free performances of “A Midsummer Night’s Dream” at various locations in Lincoln.

The project aims to bring the outdoor theater experience to underserved populations in lower-income areas. Surveys distributed at the performances last year indicated only half of those attending had previously seen Flatwater Shakespeare perform, and more than 99 percent of survey respondents said they would return. This funding follows a grant for $15,000 that WCF awarded to the project last year.

Woods Charitable Fund makes grants three times a year to tax-exempt organizations seeking funding for Lincoln-focused programs in the areas of Human Services, Civic & Community, Education and Arts & Culture.
